Chairman's Statement at AGM

The Company announces that at the Company's Annual General Meeting being held today, Clive Harrison, the Company's Executive Chairman, will make the following statement:

Business for the first quarter of our financial year, to 31 August, has been profitable. The integration of the Fieldings business continues satisfactorily and has considerable scope for further beneficial progress. However, the benefits of the acquisition have been partly countered by our regulatory costs that escalate on a continuous basis and whether that is initiated domestically or from Europe with MiFID II, there is only one direction that they are going. I sincerely hope that the significant additional expenditure will truly protect the private investor.
